

Brotherhood of Blessed Gérard

NEWS LETTER

No. 15

July 1998

Blessed Gérard's Care Centre and Hospice proves more and more to be the right project at the right time in the right area.

Reading the AIDS statistics of our days for our area is like a horror movie and there are still many who deny the facts, because they think this is the way to prevent panic.

- Six million South Africans will be infected with HIV by the year 2005.
- Most of them will come from kwaZulu/Natal.
- In the same year the number of people in the country living with full-blown AIDS will have reached a staggering 1,5 million.
- The HIV infection rate in kwaZulu/Natal is at 26,6 % (according to the National Department of Health).
- The national infection average is 16 % (according to the latest national HIV antenatal survey).
- Last year's figure was 14 %
- Already 150000 people have died from AIDS in kwaZulu/Natal in the past seven years.
- It will only take another two years for that figure to double.

- Research has shown that by the year 2014, when AIDS mortality is at its peak, 130000 people will be dying each year.
- Last year alone AIDS killed more people in the province than all other causes together.
- By 2006 the cumulative total of AIDS deaths in kwaZulu/Natal will have surpassed one million.
- And by 2016 the number will reach two million in absence of a cure.
- South Africa has grown from having one of the lowest infection rates a few years ago to currently having the fastest growing epidemic on the continent (according to Dr. Garth Japhet).
- It is estimated that between 40 and 50 million people globally will have the HIV virus by the year 2000.

(Source: Daily News, 4 June 1998)

- AIDS-tests at Empangeni (80 km from Mandeni) show, that 45% of the patients tested are HIV positive
- Sundumbili Clinic tested 60 % HIV positive in 1998
- An industrial nurse at a big factory in iSithebe estimated that 80 % of their employees are HIV positive and
- A nurse at Stanger Hospital told us, that she thinks, that 100% of the patients in her ward are HIV-positive.

We cannot prove these statistics or estimates right or wrong and we do not mention them to show off with our disaster. We also do not know why our area is considered the worst in South Africa as far as HIV infection is concerned.

When we planned and built Blessed Gérard's Care Centre and Hospice in Mandeni, we certainly were not aware of the real extent of these developments. Our main aim was to assist the many patients with all kinds of diseases who are not sufficiently cared for by their families. Now, as we are up and running for nearly two years we realise more and more, that we have just done the right thing, at the right time, in the right area.

Call it a lucky coincidence or divine providence: The AIDS wave is hitting with vengeance and we are ready and prepared with our staff and volunteers, in a very functional and well equipped building, to help those, who would otherwise suffer from neglect on top of AIDS.

It is our shocking experience that many families just want to get rid of their relative suffering from full-blown AIDS. This is a total contradiction to the good old tradition in Zulu society, that sick family members are normally looked after quite well. We found that it is mostly fear and lack of knowledge how to handle an AIDS patient without running the risk of getting infected oneself. Our home nursing care is therefore combined with counselling of the family members, teaching them where and how to be cautious and where there is no danger, so that they can care for their relative without fear and resentment.

AIDS and traditional healers

Another area of concern is, that most of the Zulu in our area will trust rather in their traditional healers than in modern medicine. This would not be a problem, if they would just be given herbal substances, which would at least make them feel better subjectively. But if the medicine-man makes multiple incisions with a razor blade in the skin of an HIV positive person, to rub "medicine" into the wounds (which is a very widely spread "treatment") and uses the same razor blade in the same way for the next patient, the "cure" of the one becomes the lethal side-effect for the next.

A further complication is that about half the AIDS patients have Tuberculosis of the lungs, but many refuse to take the appropriate medication, for lack of understanding, that this is indispensable to inactivate TB.

Other people's care is jeopardised by the traditional belief that inducing vomiting would "clean the system" and thus any oral medicine given by professionals is rendered useless by this practice.

Yet another difficulty in our care giving is the attitude of many people, who fear death and the inability to witness and cope with suffering and therefore ostracize their dying relative.

Far worse is the widespread rumour an HIV positive patient could rid himself from the deadly virus through having intercourse with a young virgin. Countless rapes of girls from as young as 3 years upwards are the sad consequence. Words cannot describe the horror for these children: The bodily mutilation, the psychological trauma and finally the HIV-infection.

There is a formidable amount of education and care to be given, as fears cannot be treated with threats or punishment, but information and reassurance.

The Brotherhood of Blessed Gérard was recognised as a training institution for the practical training of Social Workers.

It is with pride and joy to share the news that we have been recognised as an institution for the practical training of Social Workers by the Fachhochschule (Specialised University) of Coburg, Germany. This is a special acknowledgement of the holistic approach to the social needs of the people in our comprehensive system of care. We expect the first student – Mr. Niklas Rohlf – for his 40-weeks practical training in September this year. He is already learning Zulu and waits for his study visa.

May we introduce to you, our Volunteers from "Overseas"?

- Sr. Barbara Saranac and
- Sr. Nayda Del Moral from Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The Federal Association of the Order of Malta in Washington sponsored the fares for both of these nurses, who worked in Blessed Gérard's Care Centre & Hospice for one month, but have already left for home.

- Sr. Barbara Sarenac wrote to us:

Well we are home at last and safe thanks for the prayers. The flights were all fine until we left Chicago to Milwaukee. That was a scary ride, a lot of dips and drops. When we got to the airport in J'Burg all the lights and computers went down for a short time, was hoping that we weren't going to get stuck there and we didn't. We had a lot of running around to do, ... My kids and husband, and yes the two babies were at the airport and I cried I was soooooo happy to see them. Father, ... my films are just great ... Sister Sophie and Stephan: I truly miss them a lot. If any or all of you have ringing ears its cuz

I talk about our good times to everyone. ... I'm still tired today, jetlag only I hope ... Well, it's very hot here, 90's (i.e. >30° C), and humid. You know the way I sweat. ... Please send my love and best to all,

I remain,

Sister Barbara

Sister Nayda Del Moral

- Herr Stephan Killian from Passau, Germany. Mr. Killian is a volunteer paramedic for Malteser-Hilfsdienst and has given up two months weeks of his time to help us.

He introduces himself:

Grüß Gott!

My name is Stephan Killian and I'm 22 years old. I've left Germany on June 20th and I'm going to stay in Mandini for 2 months. Why did I come to South Africa? Well, I've got to wait 'til April '99 when I will start training as a male nurse and so I've thought why should I wast this time. I've heard about the Care Centre via the Internet and I've decided to take this chance and gain some experience in a foreign country. Besides I wanted to extend my knowledge as a paramedic and nursing assistant by helping needy people in a different environment than what I'm used to. My hobbies are jogging, making music and reading.

Stephan Killian

- Marie-Sophie Freiin von Venningen from Osterberg, Germany, a nursing assistant, will also work with us for eight weeks

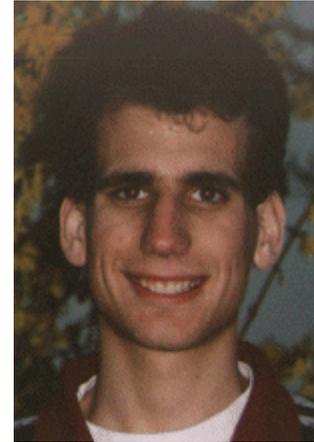

She introduces herself:

My name is Sophie von Venningen. I am 21 years old and from the South of Germany. After I graduated from High School last year, I made an apprenticeship as a dressmaker this year and I attended a training as a nursing auxiliary at Malteser-Hilfsdienst to come here to South Africa, to Mandeni, to see the people and their needs and I hope I can help them where my help is needed.

Sophie von Venningen

- Herr Björn Peters from Heusweiler, Saar, Germany is a volunteer fire fighter and advanced first aider who has also given up three months of his time to come and help us before going home to begin his studies to become a medical doctor.

He introduces himself:

Hello!

I'm Björn Peters and I'm 20 years old. I come from Germany near of Saarbrücken. Until July 1997 I have attended a High School in Völklingen/Germany. From September 1997 until June 1998 I have had to do military service in the German Air Force. In October 1998, I will begin my studies at a medical school in Germany. I work as a volunteer helper in the Care Centre of the Brotherhood of Blessed Gérard in Mandeni, so that the time between the end of my military service and the beginning of my studies is not wasted. I have done First Aid training and I have worked for one month in a hospital in Germany to get practical training for my studies. I came to South Africa because I want to improve my knowledge. In addition to this, I want to get acquainted to other cultures and a different country.

Björn Peters

On behalf of our organisation and the people who we help, we would like to express our sincere appreciation for the time they have sacrificed and hard work which all the volunteers have done. It is very difficult to single anyone out for a special effort, as each and every one has his or her own special talent and contributes accordingly.

Mobile!

David Dempsey Dunn Was given ten days to live. His family had asked Blessed Gérard's Care Centre and Hospice to admit him, to spend his last days of life in the best possible care and enable him to have a dignified death.

But God had other plans for him –

His state of health improved day by day when he was in our care, so that after three weeks he was strong enough to undergo a life saving operation (amputation of both legs) in hospital and after some further days of recovery and rehabilitation in our centre he has gone home.

The medical staff at the hospital called him their „miracle baby“. Call it what you like, it is indeed amazing, to see Mr. Dunn looking so well.

The family have requested that we, the Brotherhood of Blessed Gérard, help them to raise the funds needed to make Mr. Dunn not only well, but mobile again.

The funds will go towards buying Mr. Dunn a wheelchair. Should there be any balance, it will be used to reimburse Blessed Gérard's Care Centre and Hospice for the cost of three weeks of full-time intensive hospice care and various ambulance transports to and from Empangeni and Eshowe hospital.

If you like to help, please send your donation directly to:

Yes, it is true

- that Blessed Gérard's Care Centre and Hospice is on call 24 hours per day, 7 days a week.
- that we provide rehabilitation for people recuperating from illnesses.
- that we provide day care for sick people of any age.
- that we render home care for ill people in their homes.
- that we are a hospice.
- that we rely on donations of the patient and /or family or any other generous soul.

The Local Group of Active Members in Mandini/Mangete becomes even more active.

I am happy to share the news with you that many of our members expressed the wish to meet on a more frequent basis. During our monthly meeting for active members in June, it was unanimously decided that we would meet every Tuesday night at 19:00 hrs at Blessed Gérard's Care Centre & Hospice instead of the monthly Saturday meeting.

These meetings will have a triple function:

1. To discuss normal business and make decisions.
2. To undergo on-going training in the field of working in the care centre and hospice, including driving and manning the ambulance. (We have decided to begin first aid instructions for our active members).
3. To get to know each other on a social level, therefore becoming more a community (brotherhood) of people with a similar spirit.

The members themselves will supply a "finger supper". Should you have a problem with transport, please contact Clare Kalkwarf She will do her utmost to arrange a lift for you.

These gatherings will only be successful if each of our active members takes advantage of our invitation.

Farewell and Good Luck to

Mrs. Sandy Messenger & Allistair who, together with Donna and Lucia, will be leaving for England in September. They will be sorely missed by our whole organisation.

Sandy was amongst the first active members to volunteer to become a caregiver. She has been a member since October 1994 and has proved to be one of the most consistent and valuable members in our organisation. Whenever she was asked to help somewhere she would try her utmost to assist, even though she holds down a full time job and has a family to look after, she still finds the time to give of herself to the needy.

Donna & Lucia, Sandy's daughters joined our cadets in April 1996 and have both done the junior home nursing and junior first aid courses. They were always willing to come and help when their mother was on duty. Sometimes the night shift in the care centre would be a mother and daughter team effort.

We thank Allistair Messenger for allowing his wife the time to help others and we wish the whole family a wonderful future in their new home. Hambani kahle!

Would you like to be a volunteer in our Care Centre and Hospice?

If so, please contact Clare at 456-2743 You do not need any formal training. We will provide the necessary training.

If you are not interested in be-coming a caregiver, maybe you would like to give us a hand with cooking,
Cleaning or ironing.

St. John's Feast celebrated

All our Associate members were invited to celebrate St. John's Feast on the Saturday prior to the actual feast, with a festive Holy Mass followed by some entertainment by the students of Blessed Gérard's Community Development Centre and Blessed Gérard's Pre-primary School and Crèche.

who all celebrated special birthdays recently. The commitment to helping people who are suffering is shown through the generous spirit of these three gentlemen, by requesting that their relatives and friends donate money towards the work of the Brotherhood of Blessed Gerard, in lieu of giving them personal gifts.
